About Meryl:

Meryl Rudy is a Nashville-based indie/folk-jazz singer/songwriter, musician, and producer. Some of her biggest influences are Madison Cunningham, Theo Katzman, David Wimbish & The Collection, Laufey, The Beatles, and Ed Sheeran. In the last few years, Meryl released a series of Featuring EPs. These EPs are collections of Meryl's original music featuring different artists to highlight the various voices and genres for which she specializes in writing. Meryl performs around Nashville acoustic, and with her five-piece band. She frequents writer's rounds and is actively writing and recording new music.

Current Projects:

The fourth installment of Meryl's Featuring EPs, feat. into place EP, is now available to stream. She released two singles for this project, Comfortable Love (feat. Meghan Garrison) and Laufey (feat. Savs): a nod to one of her songwriting inspirations, jazz-pop artist Laufey.
